

Hedda Pahlson-Moller

“I am privileged to call Luxembourg my home - and the birthplace and home of my children. I have a vested interest in supporting initiatives that invest in its bright future, and aligning it to global efforts for sustainable development. It is an honor and a remarkable opportunity to be a member of a diverse team of game-changers, united by the vision ensuring the responsible development of our special country. I hope to contribute my experience with the entrepreneurial mindset as well as engagement with the growing capital movements towards socially responsible investing to support CSDD in its mission and vision.”

- Hedda Pahlson-Moller, CEO of OMSINT/TIIME, is a Business Angel, Impact Investor, Adjunct Professor, Board member and public speaker.
- The common denominator of her endeavours is mobilizing capital and resources towards positive social and environmental impact, leveraging the power of diversity and entrepreneurship.
- She is Adjunct Professor of Entrepreneurship at Sacred Heart University's Executive MBA program and lectures for the University of Luxembourg on Social Enterprise & Social Innovation (SESI).
- She has an MBA from Copenhagen Business School, an M.A. in Political Economics from Lund University and an undergraduate degree from Brown University. She is an Executive Fellow with the University of Essex.
- Hedda is mother of 2 children.